Chapter 1: Fairness, Responsibility, and the Importance of Rules and Laws

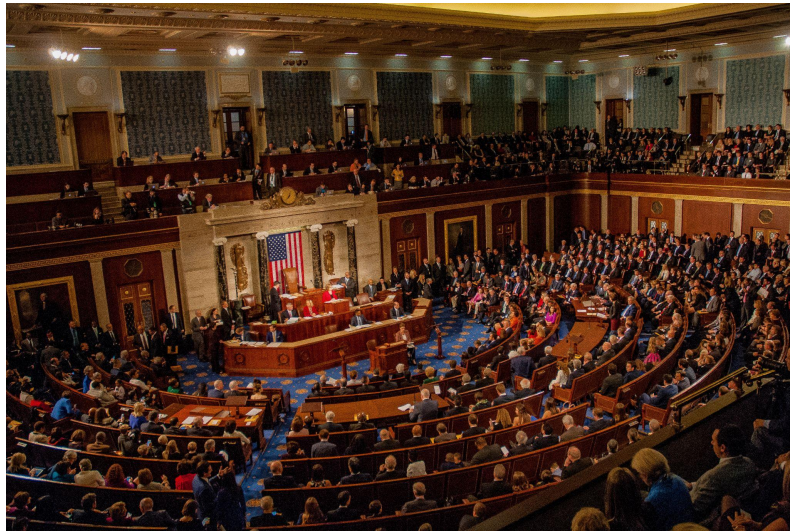

Rules are guides for how to act in a community. They help keep things safe and fair.

Framing Question: Why do we have rules and laws?

Chapter 1: Fairness, Responsibility, and the Importance of Rules and Laws

Laws are rules that an entire community follows. Governments make laws for cities, states, and countries. Part of being a good citizen and a member of a community is following the laws.

Framing Question: Why do we have rules and laws?

Chapter 1: Fairness, Responsibility, and the Importance of Rules and Laws

In the United States, we elect, or vote for, leaders who make the laws.

Chapter 2: Making Your Community and State a Better Place

Civic virtues are an important part of being a member of a community. We show civic virtue when we work to make our community and state a better place.

Framing Question: How can I make my community and state a better place?

Chapter 2: Making Your Community and State a Better Place

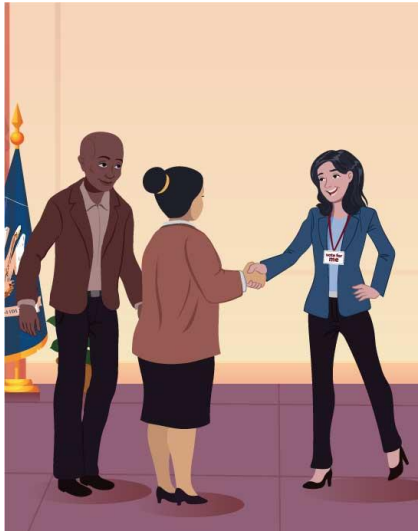

In the United States, people who are eighteen or older can vote in elections.

Chapter 2: Making Your Community and State a Better Place

One way to make your community better is by becoming a leader in the government. You can do this by running for office.

Framing Question: How can I make my community and state a better place?

Chapter 2: Making Your Community and State a Better Place

The Louisiana state government makes sure the state is ready for natural disasters. During events like hurricanes, the state government may give special instructions. We can show civic virtue by following these instructions.
