CHARTER SCHOOLS

June 2, 2021

Dear Colleagues,

Thank you to the thousands of educators who joined us in New Orleans last week for Teacher Leader Summit. My spirit is still lifted high after spending a few days surrounded by so many professionals who are passionate about getting better for kids. The week was a success and we are already looking at how to make next year even better. If you were unable to join us for the opening session, you can watch it on our YouTube channel. I also hope you will watch the stories shared by educators of GEO Prep Mid-City, Red River Parish Schools and Calcasieu Parish Schools. Three amazing examples of how Louisiana educators met the needs of children this year by being reliable, responsible and resilient.

Governor Edwards announced last week that he is lifting the K-12 mask mandate effective at the close of the 2020-2021 school year. School systems can begin implementing their own face mask policies starting with summer programs. After a statewide effort that served its purpose, I applaud the Governor for now returning this decision to our local communities. You know your children best. Just as they have since the pandemic began, I know school system leaders will continue to work with parish medical experts as they navigate what we all hope is the final chapter of this pandemic. I'm confident we will continue to move closer to offering in-person instruction to every child by the start of next school year.

As we wrap up this school year, we're asking for your help targeting supports to where they are needed most. Our Strong Start Spring Survey is open to school leaders, teachers, students, families and community members. We've extended the deadline to June 7.

Thank you for continuing to meet the needs of children and families. It's an honor to serve alongside you.

Dr. Cade Brumley
State Superintendent of Education
