

In order to ensure a strong start to 2020-2021, school systems adapt academic plans for 2020-2021 to include distance learning plans provided by publishers of high-quality instructional materials.

The Department is working with publishers and vendors to provide a set of resources to:

- adapt high quality instructional materials to distance learning when needed;
- diagnose and address unfinished learning; and
- adapt professional development.

NEW: New or updated information will be highlighted in yellow.

NEW Strong Start Toolkit released. See Implementing Continuous Core Instruction for new information.

This guide will be updated as publishers continue to build and refine their supports. For information on planning for non-core academic and Career and Technical Education (CTE) courses, please reference the Non-core/CTE Curriculum and Course Materials Guidance.

Many ELA texts are available in accessible formats to support students with disabilities. More information about specific accessibility features provided by each digital platform is available.

School systems should refer to the Privacy and Security Guide when making decisions regarding distance learning. Please contact classroomsupporttoolbox@la.gov with any questions.

Digital/Blended/Analog/Print	To support continuous learning in social studies, student packets will be developed for each course in grades 3-8, US History, and Civics for Unit 1. The documents will focus on a key topic of the unit, not cover the entire content of the unit, and are designed for approximately two weeks of independent work. Teachers can use the packets as a cornerstone to build materials for additional content coverage. The materials are designed to be low tech but can be adapted for schools using an online learning platform. Packets will be released on a rolling basis, with all unit 1 packets released by the end of July.
